Balaangala Community group began in 2008 after a few people came together to share a conversation about Reconciliation.

In the film, Uncle Nurdon Serico, Danny Guthala Doyle and other group members share what has grown out of that conversation. This includes learning about our shared history as well as the development of the Balaangala Garden Space, a place where we come together to learn, share, listen and acknowledge we are on Aboriginal land. It encourages us to continue these conversations…
